

Antídoto

TECHNICAL INFORMATION

Antídoto is located in the province of Soria, in perhaps the coolest microclimate of the Ribera del Duero. The resulting wines are considerably fresher and more elegant than is typical from the appellation. Hernando and Sourdais farm their own vineyards with no artificial fertilizers, herbicides, or pesticides, and they work with like-minded growers for the balance of their fruit.

Established: 2010

Proprietors/Winemakers: Bertrand Sourdais & David Hernando

Appellation: Ribera del Duero

Soils: Sand with gravel (50%), sand/limestone 20% and clay 30%

THE WINES	Vineyard & Grapes	Winemaking	Average Production
Ribera del Duero	Primarily Tinto Fino from over 300 small parcels surrounding San Esteban de Gormaz. Vines are 35 to over 100 years old, and many are ungrafted. Most are farmed organically and all are harvested by hand.	Maceration lasts 6-7 days and the wines are aged for 8+ months 600l French barrels (<15% new).	9,000 cases
Ribera del Duero Rosado “Roselito”	Approximately 2/3 Tinto Fino and 1/3 Albillo from vineyards surrounding San Esteban de Gormaz. Harvest by hand.	The whole bunches are direct pressed and co-fermented in stainless tanks for ~21 days. The wine spends an additional 4 months in tank before bottling.	3,000 cases